

Penn Valley Man Is Awarded Gold Star; Was U. S. Navy Pilot

John E. Freeman, former U. S. Navy Lieutenant (jg), son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Freeman, of 521 Broadacres Rd., Penn Valley, has been awarded the Gold Star in lieu of the Fifth Air Medal.

The medal was awarded for Freeman's heroic dive bombing attack on a Japanese aircraft carrier in Kure Harbor on July 28, 1945. The citation accompanying the medal read as follows:

"For meritorious achievement in aerial flight as a pilot of a dive bomber in Bombing Squadron SIX, attached to the U. S. S. Hancock, in action against enemy Japanese forces in Kure Harbor, Japan, on July 28, 1945.

"Flying through intense anti-aircraft fire from ship and shore based batteries, Lieutenant (jg) Freeman pressed home his attack on a hostile aircraft carrier to contribute materially to the infliction of severe damage to the vessel. His skill and courageous devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

CLUB OPPOSES FUNERAL HOME, STUDIES $1,400,000 APARTMENT

Directors of the Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club Tuesday night voted to oppose establishment of a new funeral parlor in Cynwyd and to investigate the conformity to zoning regulations of a proposed $1,400,000 apartment project in Bala.

At the directors' meeting, it was reported that William Kiesel, Jr., an undertaker, had purchased the old John R. K. Scott home on the northwest corner of Bryn Mawr and Montgomery Aves. and intended to convert it into a funeral parlor. Kiesel purchased the property through E. A. Clarke, realtor, for $32,500, it was announced last week.

The Scott property, which is now zoned R-5, a classification permitting apartment houses and multiple dwellings, would have to be changed to C-1, a commercial classification, before Kiesel could operate a funeral home there.

Kiesel has not yet applied to the township for a change in zoning. When, and if, he does, the Neighborhood Club will register its opposition the directors decided Tuesday.

The apartment development, to be known as Penn Park Gardens, is to be built on eight acres of the Roberts estate at the corner of City Line and Belmont Aves.

Robert C. Duffy, of Philadelphia, attorney for the builders, said yesterday that his clients plan to erect garden-type apartment units, similar in architecture to the house now standing on the property.

This house, which was converted into an apartment house some time ago, will be retained and the new units built around it, Duffy said. Altogether it is expected that the project will house approximately 155 families. The apartment units will be built of stone and will be fireproof. They will include apartments of various sizes, from one-room efficiency apartments to six-room units.

Duffy said the builders plan to retain most of the trees and shrubbery now a part of the eight-acre property. They will also retain the swimming pool and will add tennis courts, he said.

It is expected that building operations will start in February. Since the property is already zoned R-5, permitting apartments, no delay is anticipated. However, a special exception to the zoning regulations is being sought by the builders to allow for the erection of garages in connection with the apartments.

A hearing on the Penn Park Gardens petition for the special exception will be held next Thursday night, December 18, before the Lower Merion Board of Zoning Adjustment. The Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club directors Tuesday night referred action on the petition to the club solicitor, T. F. Wing Montgomery, and its zoning committee.

The club directors also voted to send a letter of commendation to the Lower Merion School Board on its recently issued information bulletin and to urge the board to continue the practice.

A proposal to hold fewer general meetings of the club was rejected and plans were made to provide programs of outstanding interest for each monthly session.

Ardmore Laundry Sr. High Holds Record Dance

Smoke, Water Ruin Bundles Ready for Delivery

Damage estimated at $20,000 resulted from a fire which broke out Monday night on the second floor of the Ardmore Laundry, on Crick et Terrace. Firemen were unable to determine the cause of the blaze.

In addition to the building and the laundry equipment, scores of laundry bundles, ready for delivery, were ruined by the smoke and the water from the fire-fighting equipment.

The blaze was discovered at 8:25 P. M. by John Buchero, a bartender in the Cricket Cafe. Buchero saw smoke issuing from the second floor windows, and called the Lower Merion police. Both the Merion Fire Company of Ardmore and the Bryn Mawr Fire Company answered the alarm.

Squads of Lower Merion policemen held back the crowds and kept the Red Arrow Line tracks clear while firemen entered the second floor, smashing the upstairs windows and attacked the flames.

Damage included laundry waiting to be processed, office equipment, mangles, irons and other machinery, office equipment, filing cases, papers and so forth. Assistant fire marshal William B. Titlow, Jr., estimated the cost after consulting with Eugene Baldwin, of 23 Llanfair Rd., owner of the laundry.

Baldwin, who took over the laundry in 1923, reported that this is the second serious fire since that date. In 1942 an equally mysterious blaze caused $15,000 worth of damage, he said.

Thomas Sullivan Wins Disc Jockey Contest

A record dance was held in the Lower Merion Senior High School gymnasium Friday night, for the benefit of the Merionette. The proceeds amounted to $60, it was announced yesterday.

The dance was sponsored by radio station WCAU with Hal Moore acting as master of ceremonies. Twelve albums of records were given as prizes in the contests which included a jitterbug contest, and elimination, spotlight and lucky number dances.

Also featured was a disc jockey contest in which the participants, selected from the dancers, presented a running commentary while playing several records. The winner was Thomas Sullivan.

Other winners were Bate Preston and Nancy Noren, first couple on the floor; Larry Jamieson and Debby Blinn, jitterbug; Ann Sproule and John Zeper, spotlight dance; and Hal Lampe and Dottie Blackburn, blindfold dance.

Scott Tells Legionnaires 'We Must Aid Europe'; Scores China Set-Up

Congressman Hugh D. Scott told the Merion Post of the American Legion on Thursday night that the Marshall Plan to feed Europe must be passed, "for reason of self-interest."

The representative from the sixth Pennsylvania district went on to explain that he felt that strings should be attached to the proposed aid to China—unless some new method of administering the aid could be found. "If it passes through the hands of the present corrupt and inefficient men who have handled the other aids to China, it will result only in waste and in unjust distribution."

"I fully believe that we must feed Europe, that this is the only way we can save our own skins," the Germantown congressman said. "It means, in the long run, saving ourselves from disease, from bankruptcy—even from revolution! We are happy, well fed, snug and prosperous here. There, the people are so hungry, so hysterical, so upset that they scarcely know what they are doing. Feed them; and I honestly believe they will set about making themselves prosperous."

Scott, who has just returned from a tour of nineteen countries with other U. S. congressmen, took occasion to rap the legislators who reported that they had seen no starving persons in their trip.

"They should have left the fashionable boulevards, and taken in the by-ways," he said. "Besides that, people don't starve to death spectacularly. They starve very gently, very politely, very slowly. And, whenever possible, in privacy."

Scott outlined a plan whereby relief would be administered through a "government corporation."

"Here I am, a Republican," he laughed, "advocating yet another of those endless alphabetical organizations. But I firmly believe that this is the way it should be done, rather than through the state department, UNRRA or any of the other organizations. However, I and my Republican colleagues want to see the man at the head of it chosen by non-partisan means. If it turns out that the man named was once a marshal, some place in Missouri, we'll fight it tooth and nail, believe me!"

During the question period, Scott affirmed that he had changed his mind, and now believed that any reduction in taxes at this time would

Zimmerman New Head of L. M. School Board

Last Week's Deadlock Ended; Dentist Succeeds Everett E. Burlingame

The Old Guard—represented by incumbent members of the Lower Merion Township school board—elected as president Dr. L. W. Zimmerman, at a special meeting Monday night in the High School.

Then, in a graceful gesture the defeated candidate, Raymond P. Scott, was unanimously named vice president.

An unprecedented deadlock at last week's organization meeting, which is called for by the State Code, resulted in a 4-4 tie, when Joseph B. Parks was not present to vote. Parks returned this week from a hunting trip, and his ballot was the deciding factor in the decision to name Zimmerman as successor to Everett E. Burlingame, retired after 25 years on the board, 16 as president.

Two ballots, last week, ended in the same tie. Bitterness grew as each side accused the other of playing politics. Older members of the board accused Scott's followers, all of whom were elected last November, of belonging to a "faction" of the Republican organization.

Scott and his cohorts countered with charges that the older members, backing Zimmerman, were as much interested in politics as anyone, although they have never been closely identified with the Republican Organization out here.

Behind Zimmerman, a dentist with offices in the Times Medical Building, were Dr. Joseph W. Anderson, J. Herbert Baltz, and Mrs. S. E. Slocum.

Scott's backers were Mrs. Anna G. Cuff, James M. Henderson and W. Ralston Rogers.

Gladwyne Man Charges 'Kidnapping' by Waitress Accused Woman Will 'Tell All' to Grand Jury

Mrs. Joyce Brown, 22, a waitress, was held without bail for the grand jury in Philadelphia Monday on charges of kidnapping and robbing a Gladwyne engineer.

According to the story told by Clement B. Hoskins, 26, of 1144 Maplecrest Circle, Gladwyne, he picked up Mrs. Brown at 3 A. M., Sunday, when she signalled him from the sidewalk at 10th and Pine Sts., Philadelphia. She told him she was ill and felt faint, and asked him to drive her through the park until she recovered. At 21st and Walnut Sts., he continued, she pulled out a .38 revolver, ordered him to drive to his home in Gladwyne and there forced him, at gun point, to remove a number of articles from his house. She then took the keys to his 1941 blue-gray Pontiac sedan, and drove away.

Hoskins informed Lower Merion detectives of the robbery and kidnapping at 9 A. M. Sunday morning. Philadelphia police, meanwhile, were tracing the car, which was piled with radion, silverware, perfume and other articles. It was picked up Sunday afternoon in front of a house on Titan St., near Wharton, Phila. Inside was Mrs. Brown, asleep; her husband, Robert, from whom she had been estranged for some time, and their fourteen-month-old daughter. Brown said his wife had walked into the house at 11:45 A. M., said she was returning to him, and then told him she was tired and went upstairs to bed.

The week before, Mrs. Brown was picked up in the early morning hours when she stole a taxi-cab after sending the driver out to get her a sandwich.

During the hearing before Magistrate Benjamin Schwartz, Mrs. Brown said only "some false statements have been made here." Later she told a Philadelphia reporter that she had not used a gun on Hoskins, and that he invited her to his home "to make sandwiches."

Hoskins, whose wife and young child were visiting relatives in Norfolk, Va., is an engineer employed by the American Viscose Co. A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, he served as a Naval lieutenant during the war.

Question Need of Money For Patrolman, Police Car

Proposed increases in Narberth's 1948 budget, which would necessitate a boost in the Borough's tax rate, this week brought protest from Narberth taxpayers.

On Friday night, a group of more than 30 persons, represented by Roland Fleer, Narberth attorney and a past president of Borough Council, were invited by Council to attend its executive committee meeting, held monthly on the Friday before the regular Council session.

At the regular meeting Monday night, an additional half-dozen residents appeared to make similar protests.

Council has proposed a 1948 budget of $122,262.79 for 1948 as compared to the 1947 budget of $10,453.80. Items challenged by the taxpayers included appropriations for an addition to the police force, an appropriation for the Planning Commission and the purchase of a new patrol car.

The group represented by Fleer held several meetings prior to notifying Council of the intended protest. At one meeting, the consensus was that the amounts appropriated in 1947 for such items as ash and trash collection and street lighting were sufficient and need not be increased for 1948.

When the group met with Council Friday, a spokesman stated that the taxpayers also felt the police force is sufficiently large and that an appropriation for the purchase of a new police car would be unwarranted as the car now in use is only two years old.

The taxpayers who attended Monday night's meeting protested most of the same items.

In reply, Walter A. Fox, Council president, said that increases in the 1948 budget did not represent new items, but items which were either omitted or slashed in the 1947 budget.

"Narberth," he said, "has a high standard of community service, and the only way to keep it high is to continue to make improvements and to take the proper care of whatever facilities we now have."

"If Borough residents wish to keep the high standard of community service they now have," he added, "the Borough has to raise the taxes."

Besides the items protested at the meeting Friday night, appropriations for the fire company, library, dog law enforcement, Board of Health and Shade Tree Commission were questioned Monday night.

In the proposed 1948 budget, the Later assigned as personal bodyguard to President Truman, he accompanied the President to San Francisco, Potsdam and on many trips to Independence, Mo. He resigned voluntarily from the Secret Service to enter full-time Christian Service on June 20, 1946.

In the fall of 1946 President Truman secured for him an invitation to participate in the Attorney General's conference on Juvenile Delinquency, which was attended by 1,000 picked leaders from all over the nation.

1st Snow Brings Three Accidents

No Injuries as Sleet, Rain Add Hazards

Three accidents along the Main Line followed Wednesday night's snow, sleet and hail storm.

At 5:48 P. M. Thomas Winthrop, 50, of 1505 Wynnewood Rd., Ardmore, who was driving south on Wynnewood Rd., near County Line Rd., skidded and struck a parked car on the right side of the road. The car, belonging to John L. Anderson, 53, of 2412 Merwood Lane, Havertown, was damaged slightly.

The dangerous intersection at 54th St. and City Line Ave. was the scene of the second accident, at 7:50 P. M. Claude E. Albrow, 43, of 347 Lansdowne Ave., Lansdowne, who was driving his new 1947 Chevrolet sedan north on City Ave., stopped for the traffic light. When it turned green he attempted to make a left turn into Old Lancaster Pike, and was struck by a car driven by John Donnelly, 38, of 10 Rittenhouse Place, Ardmore.

Albrow's new car sustained $350 damage, and Donnelly's was also damaged, for an estimated $300. There were no arrests.

Wilmer Ward, 42, of 735 Edgehill Rd., Ardley, Pa., was driving down Roseglan Rd., going downhill, at 8:05 P. M. He skidded on the snowy road and crashed into a Packard sedan parked on the south side of the road, and belonging to Evan Bruce Byall, of 1343 Roseglan Rd. Both cars were damaged slightly, according to Lower Merion police.

'Ducky' Boothe Bags Four-Point Buck

Herbert N. "Ducky" Boothe, prominent landscape gardener, of 130 Bentley Ave., Bala-Cynwyd, has been receiving congratulations this week on the big four-point buck he brought back from a recent hunting trip.

Boothe, a member of the Union Fire Company of Bala-Cynwyd for many years, shot the deer near Newfoundland, Pike County, Pa. He reports that it weighed 126 pounds dressed.

Boro Brothers Granted Patents

Two Narberth brothers were granted patents last week, it was announced by the United States Patent Office. They are Walter E. Dean, of 26 Narbrook Park, and Albert G. Dean, of 219 N. Wynnewood Ave.

Both in the engineering department, railroad division of the Budd Company, Philadelphia, Walter is executive engineer, and Albert is chief design engineer.

Walter is the inventor of a drawbar carrier for railroad car coupling mechanism, which patent examiners ruled was different in two respects from anything similar ever previously patented or known.

Albert worked with Michael Water, of Philadelphia, to invent a fabricated aircraft structure. They were credited with eight original ideas in connection with their invention.

Patent rights in both inventions have been assigned to the Budd Company, according to patent office records.

M. L. Federation Holds Meeting

Robert Myers Talks on Marriage Counselling

Robert M. Myers spoke on Marriage Counselling at a meeting of the Main Line Federation of Churches Tuesday.

Myers, who is associated with the federation's Family Service Agency, said that the agency is becoming well known as a place where persons of all economic levels can go for help with domestic and marital problems.

Roland Allen, of the Ebenezer Methodist Church of Manoa, was introduced as a new member of the executive committee.

It was announced that Mrs. John M. Brister had been appointed to the advisory committee of the Family Division of the Health and Welfare Council.

A suggestion that all churches be lighted on Christmas Eve was received with appreciation, and referred to the Main Line Ministerial Association.

In the absence of the federation president, Dr. B. L. Scott, the meeting was under the direction of the first vice-president, the Rev. Robert G. Middleton, pastor of the Narberth Baptist Church, of the Evangel.

Boroites Urged To Mail Yule Cards Early

Narberth residents were warned this week, that Christmas cards for local delivery should be mailed by December 15 to insure delivery before Christmas.

Postmaster Joseph L. Kelly stated that the deadline for mailing packages for out-of-state delivery was December 10.

Full and correct addresses are essential for speedy delivery, Kelly pointed out, as post office regulations forbid more than one effort to deliver third-class mail. During the peak of the Christmas season rush, he added, cancellations reach a high peak, and cannot be returned to the sender, unless they are sent by first-class mail.

Particularly effective was a review of the branch history, portrayed by students of Harcum Junior College, Rosemont College, Haverford College, members of the Junior Red Cross, the American Legion, students of the Bryn Mawr Summer Day Camp and volunteers of the Main Line Branch.

Henry Clifford served as narrator and musical background was provided by the Orpheus Club of Philadelphia and the Lower Merion High School Brass Quartet.

The speakers, Congressman Franklin J. Maloney and Mrs. Louisa Farrand, were introduced by Edgar Scott, of Villanova, master of ceremonies.

Maloney, a member of the committee on foreign affairs of the House of Representatives, who recently returned from a six-weeks tour of Europe, gave his impressions of the physical and political conditions of the war-torn countries.

"Europe is old and decrepid and sick," he said, "and presents a morbid, ugly and distorted picture." He blamed this condition on inflation, poor crops, black market and musical background was

THINKING OUT LOUD

Who'll Knit Our Argyles?

We read in the paper last week about the Canadian war bride now in our midst who "is selling hand-knit socks for considerably less than the stores and specialty shops hereabouts" and who is quoted as saying "you people down here are taking advantage of each other outrageously now, the way you charge for things." Now, we wouldn't want to quarrel with a good-looking Canadian girl (or for that matter, with any good-looking girl), but we think that somebody should say a kind word for the storekeepers who charge the prices that she regards as outrageous.

We've known a lot of storekeepers, and worked for several, and almost everyone of them tried to keep his prices lower than his competitor's, hoping to get a larger share of business. If the storekeeper could sit around in his spare-time knitting Argyle socks, and if he didn't have to pay rent, and the costs of light and heat and taxes, and if he didn't figure his time as worth so much per hour, doubtless he could sell the socks at half-price too. But if he did that he wouldn't stay in business very long. And if all business was conducted in that way, we soon wouldn't have any stores to go to. And most of us wouldn't have jobs to go to, either.

Many people can "take Argyle socks or leave them alone; and, frankly, we'd rather leave them alone. But our friends who actually buy Argyle socks—instead of getting them at Christmas from dear Aunt Minnie—are rather insistent that the label read: "Made in Great Britain." They're willing to pay a bit extra to give their socks a boat ride. They figure that the next best thing to traveling on the Queen Mary is to wear a pair of socks that did. But, think of the fare!

Sure, prices are outrageous, but the blame can't properly be put on the butcher or grocer or haberdasher. He has to pay high prices to his sources of supply and on top of that must charge a reasonable "mark-up" to cover his operating expenses and to allow him a bit of profit for his efforts. As prices rise, customers of limited means reduce their purchases. But, in the meantime, the storekeeper's operating expenses have risen, too, and he finds himself in the middle of an economic situation that is badly out of whack.

There was a time not so long ago when prices "couldn't rise" except by permission of the OPA. Remember? The government told us how much meat we could buy and told the butcher how much he could charge us. But, at those prices, the farmer couldn't afford to buy feed for his cattle, so the herds thinned out, and pretty soon it didn't make much difference how much meat the government allowed us to buy, because most butchers didn't have any.

Some people had a lot of money in those days and got meat by patronizing the "black market." In consequence, for the rest of us, getting a bit of meat was even tougher. So was the meat when, as, and if we got it.

At that time some renowned economists told us how to solve such problems. You simply take off all price controls and prices zoom up awhile, but that encourages greater production and greater competition and pretty soon prices come down again to a proper level and everybody is happy.

The OPA cited columns of statistics to prove that theory was wrong and shouted: "You'll do that only over our dead body." So they had a nice funeral service for the OPA.

Well, the renowned economists were partly right. Prices did zoom up and production did increase and so did competition. Believe it or not, some prices are lower than a few months back—for example, tires and radios. And you can buy a pair of nylons today without waiting in line or bribing a clerk.

But judged in prices of beefsteak prices are terrible. Still, we don't think that's the fault of the butcher, who has to pay the price asked by the meat-packer, who has to pay the price asked by the farmer, who has to pay the price asked for farmland and feed and labor.

Maybe instead of wasting our time knitting Argyle socks we should raise a couple of helters. But most Main Line back yards are too crowded for 4-H Club work. Besides, the neighbors might object.

As we understand the economists there's a relationship between wages and the cost of goods. If wages rise, prices rise, and if prices rise, workers very naturally want higher wages. That's what the economists call a "vicious cycle" and it's pretty vicious today.

But have you compared conditions here with those in other countries?

Including the important comparison of prices related to wages? We have many happy memories of Canada. During the war, our job took us on a number of trips to Detroit, where meat was just a memory, but across the river in Windsor, Ont., we could go to the best hotel and buy a full course meal for 85 cents. For that money, you got an appetizer, roast beef, Yorkshire pudding, a green vegetable, rolls and butter, beverage and dessert. What's more, our American dollar was worth $1.10 there, so that after we paid our check and tipped the waitress a dime, we still had 15 cents left in Canadian money.

But although there was a steady stream of Americans to Canada to enjoy the inexpensive meals, many merry wives of Windsor—and their husbands—hustled to Detroit each day to enjoy the higher wages paid there.

Which reminds us that on one occasion we accompanied a friend who visited all the men's shops in Windsor hunting for—guess what?—a pair of Argyle socks. He finally discovered that he could buy them for less at Hudson's Department Store in Detroit. Seems like, back in those days, Canadian storekeepers were too busy to keep up with their knitting.

THE COLLEGE WHIRL

Dear Dottie:

The gang from home continues to rack up all sorts of honors, and has a wonderful time in the process, at college campuses throughout the country.

Rah! across the inaugural issue this week of a new magazine, "Prologue," which interested me greatly. "Prologue" is issued by students of four Maine colleges who are interested in creative writing. Glancing over the masthead, I was pleased to see that the Art Editor is William Perkins, a Narberth boy whom you probably know. Bill is a Navy veteran, and a junior at Bates College, and judging from the first issue of "Prologue" he's doing an awfully good job.

I've heard glowing reports of the splendid Christmas vespers service which the Glee Club of Franklin and Marshall presented last Sunday, as it does annually. Two Admore boys sang in the Glee Club: Roy Robbins was a member of the baritone section, while Francis A. Coburn, Jr., did a nice job wrestling with some of the difficult bass parts.

Isn't Janet Hess doing wonderfully well at Wilson College? I dropped over to Penn Valley the last time I was home to say "Hello" to her mother, and heard that Janet is president of the senior class and a member of the Candle Club, a Senior Honorary Society. Besides which she's made a brilliant scholastic record.

I could spend all night just writing about the honors which have been bestowed upon Main Livers. Clarence Pearsall has been initiated into Phi Alpha Theta, an honorary history fraternity at Lehigh, and Myron Lewis, Jr., was one of 34 students chosen by the Syracuse University chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity. Myron's a senior in journalism, and is a member of the Radio Announcers Club and the staff of "The Daily Orange."

Two of the kids, Robert H. Taylor and Katherine D. Maguire, have been included in the 1947-48 edition of "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges." Katherine is president of the Athletic Association at Hood College, Frederick, Md., where she is a senior, while Bob, who spent three years in the Navy, is editor of the yearbook at Bucknell, and a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity, and the executive cabinet of the Bucknell Christian Association. Criteria of selection for "Who's Who" were "outstanding academic work, extracurricular activities, and service to the college." Wow!

Doris Greenwood, who is a junior at Ursinus, was one of the three girls from that college selected to play on the all-college hockey team. Doris, who is a physical education major, also plays varsity tennis at Ursinus, and is a member of Omega Chi sorority. You probably remember how good she was in sports when at Friends Central.

You ought to drop a line to Jessie Cowie, congratulating her on making the Dean's list at the University of Maine. And have you seen John Libros since he received his bachelor of arts degree at the University of Wisconsin? John was one of 883 students to receive degrees from Wisconsin at the end of the summer session. Wisconsin really is a good school, even if I am still unhappy about what they did to Yale in football.

Had a note from Dorothy James, saying that she's pledged Alpha Chi Omega sorority at Bucknell. Dorothy is taking a medical technician's course.

Bertie Hollowell was very interested by a trip which his criminology class at Mount Holyoke took a few weeks ago. They went to Hartford, to study the functions and methods of the Juvenile Court of Connecticut in dealing with delinquents. Bertie says that hearing the stories that are told in that Court made her realize as never before just how well off all of us are.

I happened to see a copy of a recent report made by Superintendent of Schools Dubois, telling where members of the 1947 class at Lower Merion are now. He reports that 182 are in college, 23 in junior college, 4 in teachers' college, 17 at preparatory schools, 7 in specialized schools, 15 in commercial schools, and 3 at nursing school. The armed forces account for 11 of the class, 28 are at home and 172 are working. I think it's interesting that with colleges as crowded as they are, and with inflation rampant in academic costs, slightly better than 51% of the class are, nonetheless, managing to get education beyond the high school level. How does it feel to be one of the 38 "at home"?

Managed to get home briefly this

Estate Income Awarded To Agnes P. Jarden

Thieves Steal $72.98 From Service League

The Bala-Cynwyd Social Service League, a red feather agency in West Manayunk, was broken into and ransacked Friday night, by thieves who stole $72.98 from the petty cash box.
 The burglary was discovered by the janitor, Joseph Sorrentino, of Philadelphia, Saturday morning. The league secretary, Mrs. Gertrude P. Sherwood, of 110 Kenilworth Rd., Merion, told Lower Merion Township police that the thieves had missed almost $100 in an envelope near the cash box.

You can borrow up to $300 on no other security than your own signature. Repayment may be extended over 18 months.

appropriation for the Planning Commission was raised from $500 in 1947 to $1500; for the Fire Company from $10,000 in 1947, to $14,000; for the library from $2500 in 1947 to $4000; and capital expense from $2150 in 1947 to $8900.

Most of these items, Council members pointed out Monday night, were cut drastically in 1947 because of the limited budget. For example, one member said, the library appropriation was cut down so far that a drive for funds was undertaken by the library to raise enough money to meet current needs. The library, he said, spent $3900 for salaries alone last year.

It was also pointed out by Council members Monday, that last year members of the Fire Company spent a large sum of their own money to pay for needed equipment and repairs because the company's 1947 appropriation from Council had been slashed.

To cover the new budget, Council proposes to raise its tax rate for general purposes from 15 mills to 18.73 mills. Under a new law, recently passed, Boroughs are not allowed to raise the tax rate for general purposes above 15 mills, except on approval by the County Court. Council therefore, has petitioned the Montgomery County Court of Quarter Sessions for permission to levy the additional tax, and a hearing on the petition will be held December 19 at Norristown.

At present, in addition to the general purpose tax of 15 mills, Narberth property owners pay a 3.5 mills tax for special purposes. This levy, under the new proposal, would be reduced to 2.77 mills, making the total tax 21.5 mills (18.73 plus 2.77) or an even three mills more than the present total tax of 18.5 (15 plus 3.5).

ket, obsolete equipment and communism. He said that England appeared to be the "best off" of the European countries and that with one exception the British people evidenced a high degree of self-discipline and concern over their plight. However, the coal miners, he said, did not seem to recognize the seriousness of conditions.

He said that the absenteeism in the coal mines was deplorable, as most of the miners did only enough work to earn sufficient money to supply their wants.

In speaking of the political aspects of Europe, he pointed out that a majority of the people were not satisfied with their governments because of the dislocated and unusual conditions.

"Most people vote against something rather than for it," he said, "and the Europeans, finding that they are not able to live as comfortably as they did before the war, blame the conditions on those in power."

He denounced the communists as the "cancer of the world" and said that they were doing everything in their power to dominate all of Europe. "Their philosophy," he said, "seems to be that the only thing that is right is that which promotes the welfare of the communist party, whether it is truthful or not."

Miss Farrand spoke on her experiences with the Red Cross overseas, and made a plea for proper recognition and appreciation for the Red Cross' new national blood program.

She is Group Relations Representative for the American Red Cross and served overseas for 44 months during World War 2.

be disastrous. He also pointed out that Russian "toughness" at this time might augur an internal collapse, and said that "every wrist watch on the hands of a Russian soldier is an argument for capitalism, and this is what the Russian leaders fear."

Scott arrived here on the 7:30 train, after making a speech on the floor of congress outlining his objections to the Chinese Aid plan. He was introduced by Joseph J. Klump, chairman of the speaker's committee of Merion Post. The meeting was conducted by Commander Lester L. Lessig.

What is IT?

"adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation"

FROM THE OFFICIAL REPORT of the Interstate Commerce Commission on awarding a temporary freight rate increase of 10%, we quote:

"The law requires us to give due consideration, among other factors, to the need of revenue sufficient to enable the carriers under honest, economic, and efficient management to provide adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation..."

A moment's thought should convince any fair-minded person that keeping the American railroads healthy is to everybody's advantage.

Every family, every businessman, even the Nation itself is in danger when this vital artery of American life is weakened.

And that threat is real, and it is now. For with increases in the cost of railroad operation piling up one atop another, how can the railroads' multimillion dollar program for desperately needed new equipment be continued? How can improvements in roadbeds, yards, stations, rolling stock, which took a merciless beating in the war years of peak traffic, be carried through?

They can't... UNLESS—

Unless the railroads are granted freight rates adequate to meet the wage and material cost increases, and at the same time keep hundreds of American industries busy with new machinery and equipment orders.

Government requires that the railroads maintain a high standard of efficiency because You demand it, Industry depends on it, and the Nation must have it.

We are asking a permanent freight rate increase of the absolute minimum to meet our need—which is in every sense your need.

Our request should be granted.

KNOW YOUR STATE: Pennsylvania's Economic Progress

Important events often develop so slowly that it is possible to live in the midst of them without being fully aware of their significance. The industrial progress made by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the past ten years marks what is perhaps the most remarkable epoch in the history of the Commonwealth.

During the five years between 1941 and 1945 the State Planning Board of the Department of Commerce reports that the average annual value of the mining and manufacturing of the State was $12,789,000,000. It is true these were years of war but the progress shown during Pennsylvania's war years was merely a continuation of the rise out of the valley of the depression shown in the five-year period from 1936 to 1940. The five-year average of the value of the State's production from 1941 to 1945 was twice as great as that of the preceding five years, and three times as great as that of the depression years, 1931 to 1935. It was 68 percent higher than the average in the years of the great industrial boom between 1925 and 1930. It was 55 percent greater than Pennsylvania's value of product during the years of the First World War.

In certain industries the State's progress has been much more dramatic than that indicated by the over-all figures. During the First World War the great shipyard at Hog Island, near Philadelphia, broke all records for production for any single shipyard in the world and made Pennsylvania the greatest wartime shipbuilding center in our Nation. During the Second World War in our yards on the Delaware and in shipyards located as far west as Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania increased the value of the output of its shipways nine times over the average of the five years preceding the war and more than forty-three times the average value between the years 1931 and 1935. The average of our five-year output during the Second World War was three times that of our ship production during the First World War period from 1915 to 1920.

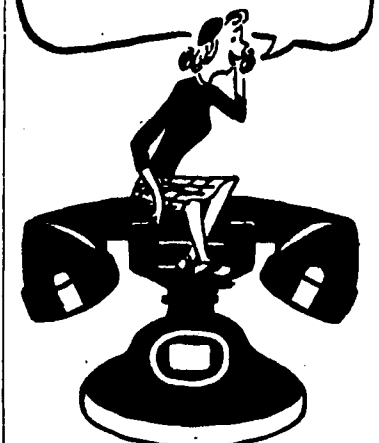

Progress in the production of aircraft and aircraft parts were equally gratifying. It is, however, in other than purely wartime products that Pennsylvania's amazing developments over the past ten years are proving more significant for our future. In the manufacture and packaging of foods and food products our five-year average value of $1,229,000,000 represents a rise of approximately 100 percent over our output of manufacturing food products in any previous five-year period. In our metals and machinery industry with a yearly average of nearly $6,200,000,000, a figure greatly exceeding that of any other State in our Nation, we were averaging 47 percent higher than in any other five-year period in the State's history. In the important chemical industries, on which so much of the industrial future of our Nation is likely to depend, our output value averaged more than 80 percent higher than in any preceding period; and our progress in the paper, publishing, and printing industries puts the State far above any previous record.

New high points were made in our clay, glass, and stone industries, in our manufacture of rubber goods and of boots and shoes, and in our output of by-product coke. Even in the output of wood products Pennsylvania's five-year average was greater than in any period since 1915.

This survey by the State Planning Board of the Department of Commerce is based on annual industrial data supplied by the Department of Internal Affairs. The rise of the petroleum industry and the changes which have occurred in domestic heating brought the total value of our coal production below that of the 1920's, although the State was still the Nation's leading producer of this essential raw material. As an offset to this decline, this State's petroleum refining industries have registered large gains in the past twenty years, and from 1941 to 1945 had attained a much greater value of production than in any previous period in the history of the industry.

The value of our apparel manufactures rose to a new high and the total value of the State's textile products also averaged more than in any preceding period.

Haverford High Passers Open At West Chester

Haverford High courtmen will open their 1947-48 campaign this Friday when they travel to West Chester. It will be the first of 18 games for Steve Juenger's charges, four of which will be played before the Christmas vacation period.

Five holdovers from last year's team are expected to form a nucleus this season, including Bruce Yelland, Bill Cordes and Bob Jones, forwards; Dick Carson, 6-foot-10 center, and Howard Yott, guard. Others in the first eight are John Trickett, 6-foot center; Mack Morrison, guard, and Tom Uman, guard.

In all, Juenger still is carrying 20 players on the varsity, but the squad will be cut before the season is many days along. Other outstanding prospects are Bill Richardson, forward, and Dan Fitzpatrick, forwards, and Bill Vallar and Ed Rieger, guards.

Rounding out the varsity, which has been drilling diligently at the Brookline gymnasium, are Bill and Paul Lyons, forwards; Frank Hemphill and Tom Jones, centers, and Guard Dick Ney.

Last year, Haverford won only five games, including league victories over Upper Darby and Cheltenham. Prospects aren't overly bright this season but, according to Juenger, the Fords "can't be much worse than they were in 1946-47."

The Fords' complete schedule: December 12, West Chester, away; 18, Friends Central, home; 19, Lansdowne, home; 22, Glen-Nor, home; January 6, Radnor, home; 9, Upper Darby, home; 13, Cheltenham, away; 16, Norristown, away; 20, Chester, home; 23, Lower Merion, home; 27, Abington, away; 28, Hill School, away; February 3, Upper Darby, away; 6, Cheltenham, home; 10, Norristown, home; 13, Chester, away; 17, Lower Merion, away, and 20, Abington, home.

1948 Ice Follies To Open at Arena

Internationally-famous skating stars are joined by newly discovered blade artists in the all-new Ice Follies of 1948 which opens a limited engagement at the Philadelphia Arena on Christmas night, December 25.

Heading the list of favorites in this 12th edition of the great musical ice revue are Roy Shipstad, co-producer of Ice Follies; Evelyn Chandler, who long has reigned as the greatest acrobatic skater of all time; and Eric and Frank, who have distinguished themselves as tops in comedy with a unique style of fun-making on skates.

Others in the all-star cast who have won plaudits of skating fans in major cities throughout the United States and Canada are Barry Scholow, Hazel Franklin, Bette and Phyllis Legg, Shirley Halsted, Dick Rasmussen, Ole Erickson, Les Hamilton, Ginger Clayton, Bill Cameron, Jim Hutchinson, and Russ Tuckey.

Contrary to popular belief, graduation will hit Haverford High's 1947 football team like a Walcott wallop next June. Ford fans have been consoling themselves that Bill Stinson's charges have been rebuilding for next year are due for a rude awakening.

Of this year's varsity squad, which defeated only West Chester while giving Upper Darby a terrific tussle in the finale, just 14 will be back for the '48 campaign. Only three of that group were regulars.

Slated to return, according to Coach Stinson's latest returns, are Tom Jones at end; Emilio Nitti, Gene Nauta and Keith Kern, tackles; Warren Hutton, guard; Hal Myers, center; Dick D'Agostino, Bill Corbett, Dave Harvey, Foster Belsinger, Frank Hemphill (who kicked the extra points), Ned Hollingsworth and Frank Crouse, backs. Of these, Nitti—who played spectacularly against Upper Darby—Kern and Crouse, fullback, are the only holdovers.

Graduation will take a heavy toll, claiming just 14 of the varsity. Chief among them will be Charles (Bud) Arnold, Haverford's key back, who was halted by injuries most of the season.

His runningmates in the backfield, Eric Dreyer, Ray Morris and Ray Trudgen, also will be lost. At end, John Trickett, Norm Wilde (who later was shifted to blocking back) and Bill Carson will graduate. So will two tackles, Norm Carlson and Top Leppin.

Hoard Pyott, Haverford captain and guard who was selected for All-Big Six honors, will bid the school a fond farewell along with Ted Haase and the talented Dave DeCurtis. Two centers, Don Griffith—who missed the Royal game because of injury—and Bob Yeomans, also will be lost.

Despite defeat, Stinson indicated that he wasn't too downhearted following the 12-6 loss to Upper Darby. "I was plenty proud of 'em, although I naturally didn't like to lose," he said. "They really played ball that day—and with a bit of a break, we might have gained at least a tie."

Maybe Not All-Americans, But These Boys Were Good

Like eager Christmas shoppers determined to avoid the rush, some selection hit my desk with their All-American football teams before the season was over. Only the first precincts reporting, however.

I doubt that this custom will ever die, but I believe the utility of it is becoming a little more recognized every year. It is impossible for anybody to sift out the best eleven players from thousands.

Some selectors, or organizations selecting, tacitly admit the impossibility of their task by pointing out representatives or boards in various sections, or polling observers. This only emphasizes the fact no judge can ever see them all.

Every year a number of magnificent players are passed over because they played for losing teams or for small colleges which got little publicity or for other reasons.

It is never attempted to choose an All-American team. Whenever I receive a request to vote in a poll for one, I give vent to a hollow laugh which causes my fellow workers to start up nervously out of their seats and look about for The Shadow. I am not qualified to attempt such a thing.

I saw so few games this year I could not even vote in an All-Philadelphia poll. For instance, saw Temple only once and Villanova not at all. So I will content myself with a few passing observations on the better players I did see, and please bear in mind they are my opinions only.

The best center I saw was Charlie Bednarik, and nobody close to him. Last year Rich Scott, of Navy, looked just about as good, but not this season.

REDNARIK, OF COURSE, AND LIKEWISE STEFFY

The best guard I saw was Joe Steffy, of Army, and at the moment I recall no other in his class, either.

The best tackles were Goble Bryant, of Army; Dick Shlimshak, of Navy, and George Savitsky, of Penn. I didn't think George had quite the year in 1946, but was also like to remark that on Thanksgiving Day, at least, Cornell's tackles were not to be sneezed at.

Swiacki, of Columbia, was undoubtedly the best pass catching end to visit these parts, but I trust he was better defensively than he appeared here, in the first half, anyway. I rather thought Penn's Oristaglio was the best defensive end I saw. For all-around ability, it's hard to say, due to the way coaches trot in their pass catchers on offense and then rush in the stop-men boys when they lose the ball. I believe Jerry McCarthy, of Penn, came closest to filling the all-around specifications.

Until Thanksgiving Day, Gene Rossides, of Columbia, stood out in my mind as the best passer I had seen. For all-around ability, I had seen the smaller Lynn Dorset, of Cornell, and he took the cake for coolness and accuracy.

Bob Deuber was the best running back I lapped. Ray Dooney the best line-smacker. Farquhar Jones was the best defensive back, and not only for the Cornell game, either. Penn's Walt Krichling was the best punter when he was having a good day, but he had some that weren't so good.

For all-around backs, I think it was a tie-up between Penn's Tony Minisi and Army's Rip Rowan. Rowan showed in the final game he could pass and he was always a deadly kicker. I'm sorry not to include Phil Slossberg, of Temple, but I saw him only once and not then to good advantage.

Lower Merion Girls Play Nine Games

Lower Merion High girls' basketball team will open its season on January 16, when Haverford High is met at the Ardmore gymnasium, according to the nine-game 1948 card drawn by Vincent V. Pearce athletic director.

The L. M. lassies will travel to Berwyn High the following Friday, January 23, while Abington will be met away on the 24th. Other games: February 6, Lansdowne, home; 13, Upper Darby, home; 19, Radnor, away; 23, Lower Merion 3d and 4th teams at Radnor; 24, Norristown, home, and 27, George School, away.

The Lower Merion team is coached by Ruth Stevenson, who turns out perennially powerful squads.

Havertown Five Jolts Ardmore

Havertown courtmen got off to a good start in a Tri-County League game when they nosed out Ardmore at Lower Merion. Bob Pisel's foul loss in the last 20 seconds tied it was a long field goal by the same player that broke a 39-all deadlock in overtime and then Ruddy Sciubba's goal clinched it.

Danny Phipps led the winners past 12 through with a great game for the losers, netting 21 points.

VETS TO MEET ORIOLES, STEELERS AT NARBERTH IN M. L. LEAGUE TILTS

By HARRY ELLSWORTH

The Lower Merion Veterans, Coatesville and Norristown remained bunched at the top of the Main Line League heap this week as both Brookline and Narberth faded further behind the three pacesetters.

Coatesville's classy cagers continued to be the conversation piece of the league. The Steelers captured their seventh win in a row on Monday night, whipping Elkins Park, 57-52, to move within a half-game of the league-leading Veterans.

Joe Gilling, who has been the sparkplug in the Lukens ascent, again topped the scoring parade with 20 points. Gilling's co-leading Don Markward, clipped in with 10 points.

Norristown, a half-game behind Coatesville, wrecked Narberth, 81-51, last Thursday as Bob Dewees tossed in 20 tallies. On the preceding Wednesday, Lower Merion minus McCann, Gallagher and Stewart, shackled Jenkintown, 71-42, but the smaller Norristown floor may give the fast-breaking "Buzz Boys" an advantage.

L. M. mentor Bobby Hackett will probably start Bud Long, George Paine, Don Evans, Bill Manning and "Moon" Mullin against Joe Ray's quintet of the Dewees twins, Carmen Schalvo, Bill Seavey and Harry Lobnitz.

Brookline and Narberth, after a few early season showings, have faded badly in their last few games. Brookline has been a victim of particular trouble with second division clubs. They bowed to Elkins Park in an overtime thriller, 54-51, last Thursday, and succumbed to Jenkintown, 48-47, on Monday.

As the All-Stars gained their first win after seven setbacks, Brookline had handed Narberth a 50-46 defeat as the Boroughites dropped their fourth game as well as contributing 13 points to Jenkintown's first league win.

Thus, all of the clubs in the league are now on the winning side of the ledger in at least one contest. Elkins Park has shown the greatest improvement of any team in the league and, at least according to the All-Stars, should give the leaders something to think about before the season is over.

Beginning on Monday night, five games are carded for the Main Line League in addition to the Veterans-Norristown classic on Thursday. Norristown travels to Wayne to meet an Italian-American club that has shown sparks of brilliance and may ignite any minute.

Jenkintown plays host to Elkins Park in the first meeting of the two neighborhood York Road quintets. On the basis of past performances, the Park lads have the edge.

Sheppard, who sparked the L.M. gridders to 10 straight triumphs and an unbeaten record this season, was chosen again for his scintillating all-around proficiency. Selected on the second squad was
